

Changing your log preferences

In SAS on Demand, the log will delete everything each time you run a piece of code. This can sometimes be frustrating, because if you're trying to work out an error, you might want to see what you've tried and what responses you've got from SAS. This walkthrough will show you how to change your log preferences.

- 1.) Log into your SAS on Demand account and launch SAS.
- 2.) Select the icon with lines and dots next to "SAS Programmer" in the upper right corner.

- 3.) Select "Preferences".
- 4.) In the "Preferences" pop up, go to "Code and Log". Then, under "With each submission", switch from "Automatically clear log" to "Append log".

- 5.) Select Save. Now your log should show everything you've submitted.
